The 800-899 is the literature section in the Dewey Decimal System. The literature section is where you find poems, dramas, essays, speeches, and it is where you will find fictional stories that are exceptionally well written, like Oliver Twist and The Snow Queen.

A poet gives language many layers, like an ice cream sundae. Poems that rhyme have one layer. Two-layered poems might have rhyme and rhythm. Imagine how a skilled poet can use words to create even more layers.

Layered Poetry Cipher Sundae

Finish all of the UNfinished 'UN' words found in The UNdefeated in order to discover many other layers you can create just using words.

Imagine your home is not safe and your parents tell you that you have to leave on a smelly, dirty boat for a whole month, but there is a new world of possibility at the end of that boat ride. Then, when you can't take another day of seasickness, a large green lady welcomes you to safety.

For every line of Lady Liberty's (Emma's) poem, write a response as if you were finally reaching a place where you could find safety and happiness.

Freedom

The Undefeated remembers many people who made freedom possible. Emma's Poem welcomed people who were searching for freedom. Though Dr. Martin Luther King's I Have A Dream is a speech, it is poetic and about hoping for freedom. Use your own experiences and the books in this backpack to come up with poetic language. Write a few words about how freedom tastes, smells, feels, and sounds.
